

Stephan Tsirelson

Junior Backend Developer (C# / Python)

Skills

Technologies and Concepts: Git, Linux, REST API, OpenAPI

Programming Languages: C#, Python

Work experience - 1 year

LLC “Loodsen” (Back-end Developer Intern) February 2025 - May 2025 (4 months)

- Automated previously manual task of data parsing using LLM (Python, Flask, LangChain).
- Integrated parsing service with local database (REST API, PostgreSQL).
- Participated in designing service architecture and writing technical documentation (Open API / Swagger).

LLC “Svargo” (IT department Intern) February 2022 - September 2022 (8 months)

- Hardware and software employees support (HelpDesk)

Pet-projects

Financial Portfolio Calculator (REST API and example frontend):

- Website demo - <https://fincalc-jrqm.onrender.com/>
- Github repository - <https://github.com/TsirelsonStepan/FinCalc>
- Open API contract - <https://fincalc-jrqm.onrender.com/swagger/>

Older projects can be found in my Github (<https://github.com/TsirelsonStepan>)

Education

Plekhanov Russian University of Economics (Corporate Finance Bachelor)

September 2022 - August 2026

Certifications

- Algorithm Training 6.0 – Yandex, 2024
- Foundational C# - Microsoft, 2024
- English Test. Level C1 - Duolingo, 2023

About

I am finishing my bachelor in Corporate Finance in August 2026, and switching to software development that is a long-standing personal passion - I began programming in C# to create Unity games at age 14. Since then I have been constantly developing pet-projects, the most recent example being the financial portfolio calculator (<https://fincalc-jrqm.onrender.com/>), other projects can be found on my Github. This combination of business and technical knowledge allows me to bridge the gap between tech and business, which is exactly the type of role I'm looking for. I'm driven by purpose, and my ideal position involves solving real-world business problems using technical solutions.

email: tsirelsons@gmail.com

github: <https://github.com/TsirelsonStepan>

linkedin: www.linkedin.com/in/stephan-tsirelson-046598293